

To whom it may concern,

It is of the utmost importance that the current marine sanctuaries are kept. Reducing these sanctuaries for mining of outdated fossil fuels is not acceptable. The current sanctuaries need to stay as is for not only our generation, but for all the future generations of not only Australia, but the world.

I plead for these sanctuaries to stay as current as per the former Labor Government's pledge.

Kind Regards,

William Harradine

Sent from Outlook