Does your comment relate to the renaming of marine parks? No Please type your comments below: I am concerned about the ongoing protection of not only our marine parks but the continuing protection of the Coral Sea in general. As a species humans, just like many millions of species of marine life depend on the Oceans and Seas in many essential ways for our very survival even though we are continually abusing that environment.

Personally, I believe that what we are already doing is still not enough let alone considering to reduce that which we are already protecting.
