

Our oceans along with all creatures and plant life which rely on them to be healthy are under pressure as never before. Now is not the time to wind back ocean sanctuaries. Any government which sanctions such windbacks is robbing from future generations and must be held accountable.