

To Whom it may concern

Please do not reduce the excellent Marine National Park Protection that our country should be so proud of.

To remove protection from some parts of the Great Barrier Reef seems a very strange & backward step.

Having a large tract of protected area is ecologically so much more successful than small fragmented areas of protection. Surely it is also easier to police, protect & defend one continued large area than multiple small areas.

I really hope that you will re-consider this plan to remove protection from parts of OUR ocean. We need to be the guardians of our environment for future generations, not the destroyers.

Please do the right thing & stop your plans to reduce the areas given Marine National Park protection.

Kind regards,
Dr Kevin Cruickshank
