

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my extreme disappointment in the plans to cut the protection of our oceans. They are already under enough threat and if anything need further protection. Obviously a single email from a single voter is not going to change anything, but please know there are a lot of people not happy with these plans. You will lose significant votes if these plans go ahead.

I beg you to re think the proposal.

Regards