

To whom it may concern

Please do not listen to those who wish to ruin what's left of our Coast for short term corporate greed.

Look to the future, our kids and granddads and future generations are depending on us to look after our Coast so all can share in its glory and it can still be the place that millions of people from around the world can see and bring in long term profits

Let not this generation be the ones who let it go, who destroy it all, who look to themselves, who put greed above the common good

Regards

Mike Bailey
