

Dear Minister

Population growth is an increasing problem for our precious environmental jewels. Someone has had the boldness, foresight and courage to protect our present marine areas. Please acknowledge that and follow suit showing that you have the same qualities.

Allow the marine life to increase in population and spread into unprotected areas for fisher people to benefit.

David Dempster