

I strongly oppose the winding back of ocean protections proposed by the current government. It has been revealed that hooking of protected turtles by commercial fishers has increased, as well as a rise in hooking dolphins, whales and seabirds. This new proposal will make this situation even worse.

Our oceans are a vital part of our precious environment. It needs protection, not the opportunity for further exploitation and decimation. Keep the Marine National Parks as they currently exist.

Yours sincerely

Jennifer McGregor

Sent from Samsung tablet.