

To whom it may concern,

I am utterly appalled at the determination to decrease our marine parks. We have such amazing natural beauty in Australia. It is not there to be exploited and squandered, but protected and shared. I protest in the most strenuous terms at ANY decrease in either the size of the marine parks, or the protections afforded to these areas. The government's role is to PROTECT these areas for future generations.

Yours sincerely,
Kristin Gillespie
East Warburton