

I am appalled by the government's plans to cut marine protection.

These changes will make Australia the world leader in winding back protection for the oceans.

In a world where large areas of ocean are polluted and/or overfished we need our marine conservation areas to be protected.

Regards,

Sandy Amber