My fair fisherman and father was an avid fisherman and I. My son is now also avid fisherman and also an avid boater. I would certainly like to see the opportunity as extended to myself and after to my future generations so they may enjoy the fishing and boating wonderings which this state has to offer. I do not believe restricting entry to particular zones is the answer rather than controlling fish take. Perhaps consideration of recreational fishing license or permits would provide better results than just stopping all access.
