

Dear Mr Frydenberg,

Why is Australia sliding backwards in marine park preservation instead of marching forward? Our former Labour government recognized the importance and value of our marine assets and set out to establish these parks to ensure they would be preserved for the future. This present Liberal government is now hell bent on gambling with our precious marine habitats to appease commercial enterprise. Mr Frydenberg, please reconsider this backward step and leave our marine parks in place and uncompromized.

Regards
Lynn
