

Dear Minister Frydenberg

Please do not cut back on the Marine parks.

I understand that marine parks are invaluable to protect fish stocks as well as wonderful marine animals such as sharks, whales, dolphins, turtles, and probably many other creatures that I do not know but believe the diversity of marine life is necessary for all life - including ours.

It seems that marine parks are needed to help protect fish stock - I find it difficult to believe that you and your government would do something to risk the future of fish and therefore the fishing industry.

Please do the right thing for the next generation Minister Frydenberg. Increase not decrease marine protection.

Yours sincerely,

Margaret Cotter
