

Dear responded,
please notice that our reefs are disappearing. As a member of the younger generation can you please take notice that is is an important issue that we must take action. You may think that i am an activist but i am not. I am a 12 yr old that wants to save earth. We have no plan B. There is no where else to live once we ruin earth. And although some may deny their destruction, it is the fault of mining (including uranium, coal and other resources), dredging and dumping earth in the sea and many other destructive actions. Please give us a future.

Yours Sincerely,
Ocean Wegger
