

To whom it may concern

Please take note of this - we need more national park areas not less. Please don't sell Australian's short - we did not vote for this!!

The marine species across the world are under threat and this is one way Australia can help by providing the habitat for the continuation of marine species.

Warm regards

Jean Watson