

Dear Josh Frydenberg,

I am concerned that your Government has been cutting our Australian marine national parks. I as well as many others went to considerable effort five years ago to win their establishment. It was a great win for the environment. Now your Government wants to reverse that work. I urge you to reconsider. It's not too late.

Yours faithfully,

Ross Findlay.