

Dear Minister,

Please consider your responsibility to future generations as custodian of our oceans. You may be pressured to bend to those with short term self interest or who make a living today by destroying the future of others.

You are charged with the responsibility to care for your grandchildren's future.

There is plenty of scientific evidence to show that fisheries are collapsing and marine parks can save them.

Please defend the fishing industry from the "tragedy of the commons".

Cheers

Rockley Boothroyd