

The oceans are the lungs and life force of this planet. As a surfer I see this more and more as I get older (now 62) , the earth needs more resources to assist human existence to perpetuate, not funding cuts for short sighted gains. There is an island of plastic drifting in the Pacific for one which is causing huge maritime damage. For the sake of your grandchildren don't cut back oceanic funding and research. It is a frontier we still don't know a lot about.
