

To Whom it May Concern:

Where is Australia heading? Backwards for sure under the new ideas for less protection of our oceans.

Please protect the oceans for the future generations of this great country.

What with the idea of new coal-fired generators and not proceeding with a clean energy target and abandoning conservation of our environment I do not understand where we are heading.

Diane Bourne