

Stop being greedy and think about the planet and life other than human that have a right to exist without threat of extinction. We all need a sustainable fair policy to ensure life continues for all creatures in the future, not just in your limited privilege short life span.