

I am writing to ask you to stop the move to reduce the designated marine areas protected at the moment by our laws of conservation. Instead of cutting back we should be increasing the areas that are protected. It is incomprehensible that we are not trying to save the beauty of nature that we are lucky enough to still have despite mans efforts to destroy and pollute the world.

Stand up and fight so that your grand children and mine can be proud as they enjoy these wonders in the years to come.

Aileen

Sent from my iPhone