

The planet needs conservation areas for the future to be sustainable and healthy, more than is currently set aside, people are treating the world as a $$ machine, world wide.

We need to lead the way, by protecting natural assets.

So much of the world has been destroyed or severely damaged, all of which has caused distinctions and serve pressure on hundreds of other animals from the microscopic to Whales.

All ecosystems have been so disturbed to the point that they can't cool or filter the planets emissions anymore.

Ethically

Do more, not less.

Hugh