

I was really appalled today to read of the Government's plan to cut marine park protection by 50%. If you think these places are out of sight out of mind - then shame on you and know that you are very wrong. Australians like me who value our beautiful environment will continue to fight your destructive policies.

Sent from my iPhone