

At a time when pollution, climate change and the advent of super trawlers raping the oceans, it has never been more desperate important that we halt the trashing of our oceans. Our oceans need all the help they can get. They are vital to life on the planet. Please don't roll back marine protection by 50%. Stop harming our environment.

Jennifer Gregory