

re Draft Coral Sea Marine Park Management Plan

There is little to support in this management plan unless you're an industry that exploits, extracts or kills life from the Coral Sea. The plan is in the face of severe declines in ocean health and in willful ignorance of what the best science says is necessary for this region.

My submission ends here because it is clear that this is a stitch up, a political outcome long decided. I despair for a public service that now serves the interests of ideology rather than the public. I despair that it is my taxes that pay for this kind of rubbish and I despair that I have to waste time participating in a sham process simply because my failure to participate in a sham would be taken as tacit support.

Shame.
