

This plan to remove these protections to our marine reserves is an act of environmental vandalism and a blow to the future heritage values of this most precious resource. History will consider you villains for this act of knowing destruction and condemn you justly for the greed and playing to vested interests that this represents.