

Dear Madam/Sir,

Why does everything have to have an economic value? Why can we not just leave natural waterways, oceans and rivers to exist without gaining something from them?

Please expand the protection and conservation areas on all of Australia's oceans and rivers. Please protect the animals, marine life, birds and insects that live in these areas. Let Nature be natural and let us (the human race) benefit from it in ways such as: fresh clean water, fresh clean air, and a clean conscience that we acted in an altruistic way to protect the planet for ALL living things, not just the (greedy and selfish) human race.

Yours sincerely,
Tasha Gergel
