

To whom it may concern

Well, it really concerns me! As a recent grandmother, I am appalled that the marine sanctuary areas are under threat. You don't know what you've got till it's gone!!!

As breeding grounds for commercially fish, resources for tourism (diving, snorkelling, fishing), these areas are vitally important for the future of the preservation of species.

Why the urgency? I will lay a bet that the commercial activities which will exploit the area will be overseas owned and will pay NOTHING to Australia in royalties, licence fees,taxes etc.

Please consider the future generations of Australians.

Sincerely

Elizabeth Jarvis

QLD 4030

jarvis_liz@ hotmail.com

Sent from my iPad