

I have read with dismay of the planned cutbacks to our ocean sanctuaries. We need people with vision in government who will see that this completely regressive step has no thought for the future. Endangered species are carelessly slaughtered for short term gain-a few fish now as opposed to maintaining healthy fish stocks for a sustainable future fishery. This sort of retrograde action sees many people who fear for the natural world and the future for our children see only the usual reason for politicians making completely unscientific and irrational decisions and decisions - corruption.

Please be better than this

Jackie Sherwood

Sent from my iPad