

good day,

I believe that reducing the protection of our marine areas is economically shortsighted and environmentally unacceptable.

I am ashamed that Australia is proposing to go from a world leader in marine protection to a nation that does not care too much about our wonderful oceans which are already being damaged by pollution and increasing temperatures.

sincerely,

E G Brinkmann