

Marine National Parks are to protect the life of the sea and therefore our own lives from over-fishing and starvation.

Trawlers raping the ocean and oil companies poisoning it doesn't look good for our future as a species or any other species.

Vision and protection is what is needed.

By Vision, I mean seeing beyond immediate gain.

Protection I mean a place for life to replenish itself without constant stresses

Life is already hard without wanton destruction and poor choices.

The time is now

there is no more time left.
