

I am greatly concerned that the Turnbull Government continues to ignore the voters of Australia who have clearly shown that they want protection for ocean sanctuaries. Our Prime Minister appears to have a tin ear. Tony Abbott also made the same mistake. It is time to stop changing policies and start listening our environmental concerns. The ocean sanctuaries are important to voters and we want the Government to stop dithering increase the area of current zones, not decrease them.

Helen Hackett

helenhackett@bigond.com

Sent from my iPhone