

What the heck is going on? ??I really thought that the Australian Government had some common sense; but it's really sad to see the destruction being carried out regarding the marine environment of the country. Please put a stop to this immediately as it will be disastrous for the future generations.