

I am disgusted that the Australian Government is considering cutting the area of ocean that Australia protects by 50%. Pipelines, mining and midwater trawling are to be reintroduced and many other offensive fishing practices such as long-lining.

My husband & I run two businesses and have always voted Liberal. If this goes ahead just as the NSW Liberal Government's loosening the native vegetation clearing laws, then we will never support State and Federal Liberal Governments ever again.

This is the most appalling, backward step. An absolute shame on you, your government is despicable in every way if this goes ahead!

No Government has ever taken this many hectares out of conservation before.

Disgusting!!

Yours sincerely,

Jillian & Kevin Snell
