

Attention Tony Burke

Please consider the long range effects of the current Government proposal to reduce large areas of our oceans which are currently protected by Marine Park legislation.

In a rapidly changing world, the environment which sustains our very existence demands our utmost care - consider this! Is a short term politically driven "quick fix" valid, given the long term inevitable results of pollution, excessive harvesting and destruction of one of this nation's most beautiful assets - its pristine shorelines?

What will your grandchildren inherit?

Liz Ford