

To whom it may concern,

I would like to urge you to reconsider reducing the area of our marine parks. These marine parks are vital areas for marine wildlife protection and also provide immeasurable value for tourism. I can not understand why anyone would choose to do this when our marine environment is under such stress from climate change, pollution, over- fishing, etc.

Decisions like these will be taken into consideration at the next election and my vote goes to political parties protect the environment as well as consider the impact of their decisions on future generations.

Kind regards, Chris Forkin.
