

To whom this concerns,

I have become aware that the government is not only planning to cut the vitally important protections that exist for our oceans, but planning to cut them by 50%. This is not the action of a world leader, except a world leader in wanton destruction.

I wish to register my strenuous objection to the removal of any protection from Australia's oceans, and ask for the reinstatement of the areas that have already been removed from the Marine National Park, such as in the Coral Sea, Marion Reef, Osprey Reef, Shark Reef and Vema Reef.

Do not remove protection and allow activities such as midwater trawling or longlining in these regions. Please remember that this is not the last generation to inhabit this planet. We have a responsibility as stewards to protect the earth for future generations, and a leading role as a developed and wealthy nation to set an example of stewardship.

Sincerely,

Jules Bray
