

RE: Extent of Australian Marine Parks

Chill yourself to the bone. List all worldwide pollution, which would include rapid plastification of the oceans; their rapid acidification; and rapid their warming.

One background to this growing hell is the annual burning, a filthy activity, of 33bln tonnes of fossil, or about 650,000 Sydney Harbour Bridges.

Despite the care for the environment words from the informed 1960s the time is well passed when actions should match the "clean" words and legislation.

Forget contracting marine park protection; all the pressure points to increasing.

Yours sincerely
