

I find it absolutely appalling that marine protection is being reversed. Globally there is so much overfishing and complete destruction of marine wildlife I am in disbelief that the Australian Government would even consider the introduction of this destructive legislation. This law will benefit raiding fishing trawlers that scoop up all marine life leading to loss of species. This proposed legislation must not proceed.

Sent from Samsung Mobile