

Looking after our oceans is now more important than ever before. The oceans provide food and are an important part of the world ecosystem and the climate.
I would like there to be more marine parks, rather than less.
Under no circumstances do I wish to see a reduction in marine parks. Betty Bryant.