

Dear Committee,

In view of scientific evidence it is against any sound reasoning to wind back the protection of our Marine Parks. Australia will be the laughing stock of the international community and it will hurt our standing and image as a country. When scientists are warning of the depletion of our oceans it is unconceivable that winding back of the protection of these treasures of our seas is even contemplated. Only the protection of our seas will ensure long term gain for Australia. Please reconsider the rezoning and leave these protected zones for our future.

Thank you,

Markus Egli
