

I am truly shocked that our current government are planning to reduce our marine parks to a level that the science says will not protect our reefs and wildlife. This would be a short-term sop to commercial fishers but long term disaster for all Australians who love the sea and who want meaningful marine parks to protect our ocean environment.

Dr Dianne Emslie