

I would just like to say that the proposed cuts to our marine parks are another step backwards by a government that has little respect for the natural world and what future generations are to be left with. What an embarrassing legacy, you are making us look like complete idiots and a generation that respected only greed.

Yours sincerely,

Trevor Blatchford.