

Dear government

Can you please reinstate the marine protection sanctuaries as they were outlined by the Gillard government in 2012? Then Australia had the respect of their own people and the world for having the courage to introduce one of the best marine sanctuaries worldwide, with the the rollback of these we just satisfy shortsighted interests that rob future generations of most of our marine life and with it jobs in tourism and many other sustainable industries. I love the oceans around our country and I like to fish, scuba dive and observe wildlife. Don't take this away from us.

Kind regards,
Thomas Braun
