

Dear Mr Marine Park Manager,

I would have thought that the primary task of any manager is to protect that which he managed. Should he be unable to do this, his only honourable option is to resign.. The irony of this, wrt the ongoing pressure to further exploit our oceans, is that the powers that be, driven by an idolatry of money, will simply replace the poor fellow with someone who is more compliant with their regrettably uneducated views on our once rich and beautiful oceans.

Din't be a patsy.. Don't say, I just work here. Be a little more intelligent.

Regards,

Professor Peter J Snow

Professor P. J. Snow,

Queens Fellow in Marine Science,

Adjunct Professor of Neuroscience,

School of Anatomy,

Griffith University

Gold Coast,

Queensland.