

To whom it may concern,

more than ever our natural environment and marine national parks needs protection.

Everyone knows this. Stop exploiting, and destroying what we hold dear for selfish financial gain and leave the already inadequate protections in place so other species are safe from human predation at least in some small spaces.

Thank you

S. Walmsley