

Dear Sir /Madam,

I am writing to express my deep disappointment in the government's desire to reduce the size of Australia's Marine Park reserve. With reefs around the world in a state of decline due to ocean warming and other generally human made factors, and considering the critical role reefs play in part of the lifecycle of so many marine species, I believe it is incumbent upon the government to retain the current marine park boundaries.

Thank you for your time.

Regards,

Ray Azzopardi

Eltham, Victoria.