

To whom it may concern,

Diminishing the value of protected biodiversity is a move which will ultimately hasten the demise of biology as we know it. This action, indeed all of humanity's dastardly acts of disrespect and disregard for the diversity of nature, should be halted. Please work to protect, and if anything increase the protected oceans which surround this great nation of ours.

Cheers, Pat