

To the Australian government, I am completely opposed to the reduction of Australia's marine sanctuaries. This is an inexplicable decision. These sanctuaries were created to protect marine life for the future. I cannot stress the importance of conservation areas for biodiversity, recreation and sustainability particularly when we are seeing the devastation currently being wreaked upon our Great Barrier Reef. Why is this government so disappointingly anti environment and shortsighted? Please uphold the current marine sanctuary standards, please.

Yours faithfully
