

The Manager,

I am very concerned for the health and well being of our precious marine environment, and am alarmed that the present government seems hell-bent on degrading it with its short-sighted intention, further to reduce Australia's protected waters.

This proposed action makes me ashamed of my country, and I demand, in the strongest terms, that your high office be used to keep safe our environment~ and NOT to oversee its destruction.

We must stop such backward practices, so that future generations will know even a fraction of the natural wonders that we have been privileged to experience.....otherwise we will rightly be judged by our descendants as the most rapacious and selfish beings ever to have trodden this earth.

The troglodytes will seem like pussies compared to us!

Sincerely,
